

English

Our reading text for this half term will be The Miraculous Journey of Edward Tulane by Kate Dicamillo and we'll focus on making predictions and inferring meaning. In writing, we will a diary entry based on our class novel as well as writing a short narrative based on the short film Ruin. Later on we will be using the Sainsbury's advert 1914 as inspiration to write letters.

Science

We will complete a unit of work focusing on recording and presenting data and in "States of Matter" we look at solids, liquids and gasses.

French

We are learning to say, read and write the names of various vegetables.

Maths

We are continuing with Big Maths CLIC sessions at the start of every lesson. We are looking at fractions including finding fractions on a numberline, shape including recognising acute, right, obtuse and reflex angles. In amounts (measures) our learning will include measuring perimeter and converting grams to kilograms.
