Online Safety Workshop

Dear Parents/Carers,

Next Wednesday, 4th October, we would like to invite you into school for an Online Safety Workshop at 8:45am.

We have Martin Bailey coming into school who will be delivering Online Safety Workshops to all children during the course of the day. Martin is a teacher who started his own company back in 2011 (Animate to Educate) bringing Primary Computing to life through the delivery of pupil workshops, staff training and consultancy sessions in schools throughout the UK.

Martin a real expert in his field and we are excited to have him in school. Online Safety is a serious issue in 2023 and at Ellington we are determined to ensure that all children know how to stay safe online. As a parent myself, Online Safety for my own children is a concern as they are growing up with so much out there. Please attend our workshop with Martin where he will share advice and guidance with you to help you keep your children safe online. There is no charge to attend and we will provide free tea/coffee and biscuits.

Martin is also an ambassador for Mental Health and we will be supporting Beyond (We are Beyond) by wearing football shirts on Wednesday October 4th in return for a £1 donation which will go directly to supporting the work 'Beyond' do with young people across the UK. If your child does not own a football shirt, they can wear non-uniform in return for the £1 donation.

We raised over £350 for The Pearl of Africa choir (£145 from pupil/staff donations, £155 donation from school, £55 crafts). We hope to support a number of different charities over the course of the year.

Best Wishes,

Mr Hodgson
