

English

Our reading text is Another Twist in the Tale by Catherine Bruton. In writing, we will be re-writing fairy tales inspired by the Brothers Grimm and, following this, using our skills for writing to inform to develop a non-chronological report linking to Victorian workhouses. We will also explore poems by Maya Angelou and develop our skills and confidence in performance poetry.

Science

This half term, we are studying living things and their habitats, developing our knowledge of classifications and use of classification keys.

French

We will discuss lessons studied in school, e.g. those we like and dislike.

Maths

We will begin our year with place value before moving onto the formal column methods for the four operations. Using Winning With Numbers, we will also be revising any gaps that remain in our knowledge of rapid recall of maths facts as well as practising applying known skills in new contexts.
